ARTISTS SERIES COMMITTEE

They Pick Slate

By Joan Pape

The Wartburg College Artist Series presents . . . . Rudolf Serkin, pianist . . . the Boston Pops Orchestra . . . Jascho Heifitz, violinist . . . the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo.

These are world-famed names — names of people whom we would pay large sums to see in another city. But all of them have been brought to our own campus through the services of the Artist Series Committee.

At present the Artist Series Committee is made up of seven members — five faculty and two students — with Dr. A. W. Swensen as chairman. Though their duties range all the way from publicity to supervision of ushering, the main one is, of course, to choose the programs for the following season.

Hard Choice. The actual selection of these programs is quite difficult. Agents come to the Committee in the spring of each year submitting the names of artists or groups and the times at which they will be available. It is from these names that the Committee usually makes its choice. However, they are always restricted by many other factors.

The most important restriction on the committee is financial. To put it in the words of Dr. Swensen, "The Artists Series is just like a business, which must always be sure that it is going to make a profit. The Series Committee must always be sure that it will at least break even."

Financial consideration is so important that it also naturally limits the type of programs which will be offered — neither too popular or too classical. To quote Dr. Swensen again, "We are always certain of a student crowd, but it is the people from the community buying season tickets on whom we are dependent. If they don't wish to see the programs we are presenting, we won't be able to finance the season.

"It is also for this reason that we often include the Boston Pops in our series. They are exceedingly popular, relatively inexpensive and are usually available at the right time of the year."

The committee is also limited in its scheduling by other events on the campus. It must always be sure that a Series program will not conflict with a game, play or some other student activity.

Broadening. Besides choosing programs which will be suitable financially, the committee also attempts to select programs which will be culturally broadening to those who see them. In line with this, the Committee tries to vary its big name performers from year to year — a singer one year, a symphony orchestra the next and so on. In this way, most students are able to see a variety of types of programs in the four years they are here.

Of course, whether the choices of the committee are appreciated or not lies with the individual viewer. It is the committee's hope that they are.

Building Fate To Board; Chicago Meeting Monday

"BUT WE PROMISED him a fire engine if he'd come back!" say Artist Series Committee members Ron Pfohl and Bernie Schulz as they ponder ways of putting the fire engine on stage with Arthur Fiedler. STORY ON PAGE SIX.

Becker Back In Office

Dr. C. H. Becker returned to part-time work at his office this week. One of his first official acts upon resuming part-time duties as college president was to preside at Tuesday's Administrative Council meeting.

"I am happy and grateful to be back," Dr. Becker stated. "It's quite a novel experience to observe the life of the campus from one's home and still not be able to participate. I am grateful that I can do at least part of my work again."

For the first time since his heart attack Nov. 30, Dr. Becker will be able to spend a few hours in the morning and evening in his office. In a few weeks he will be able to resume full-time duties.

"I'm grateful to the faculty and to the administrative staff as well as to all the students for having esrried on the program of the college so successfully. I'm happy that I can again put my shoulder to the wheel and do my part in building our college," President Becker concluded.

WCB Discusses Fixed Weekends, Spring Stylings

Limiting off-campus weekends for women and a spring style show were main issues of discussion at the Monday evening meeting of the Women's Co-ordinating Board.

At a previous meeting of the WCB the suggestion was made to limit the weekends which women could be off-campus. The suggestion was discussed and dropped at the last meeting.

A committee was appointed to look into the possibility of lengthening Sunday night hours for those who need additional traveling time.

Editor Applications To Be Considered

Applications for editorships of the three Wartburg publications will be considered by the student-faculty committee on publications at its monthly meeting Tuesday.

Application forms may be obtained from Miss Margaret Wolff, head of the Journalism Department.

Open House In Gym

A recreational open house will be held in Knights Gym tomorrow afternoon from 1:30 to 4 with volleyball, basketball and trampolining among the activities.

Engelbrecht Will Attend

By Harold Kurtz
Managing Editor

Fate of Wartburg's next building phase will be one of the major topics when the American Lutheran Church Board of Higher education meets in Chicago Monday and Tuesday. Business Manager H. C. Engelbrecht will attend for Wartburg, representing President C. H. Becker.

Concerning the Wartburg building program, plana are just about completed for the new men's dorm. Bids are scheduled for early April with construction slated to start in late spring.

Library plans are still indefinite, according to Dr. Gerhard Ottersberg, professor of history and chairman of the library planning committee. According to Dr. Ottersberg, Dr. William Young, executive secretary of the Board of the Higher Education, is making a study of the matter.

'Not Enough.' Engelhrecht stated that the $250,000 allocated by the ALC for the library would not be adequate to build a library suitable for the college. At its Blue Island convention last October, the church gave the college permission to spend $850,000 for building.

Planner Engelbrecht

Out of this money $400,000 would go for a dorm, $250,000 for a library and $200,000 for a chapel-auditorium. The church rejected a proposal to allow $450,000 to be spent on a dorm and $400,000 for a library with no provision for the chapel.

"What we'll have to do," said Engelhrecht, "is to build one unit in such a manner that another wing can be easily added to it, when sufficient funds are available."

'If and When.' The proposed chapel-auditorium, to be constructed in the center of Luther Hall, will be built when the so-called "if and when" funds become available. These funds will be paid to the college, if and when the church receives the money in the future.

In other construction news, engineers from the Northwest Bell Telephone Company met with Engelbrecht yesterday to discuss the new campus telephone system. To have quarters in the new wing of Centennial Hall, the system will serve the entire campus.

Six trunklines will connect the telephone office with the campus, while a dial system will serve the college itself. The present PB-X switchboard in Luther Hall will be discontinued.

Dr. Carl Oberdorfer Here For Mission Emphasis Week

Missionary Oberdorfer

By Norm Braatz

A week-long program on the 'World-Wide Mission of the Church' will begin tomorrow morning at 8 when Dr. Carl Oberdorfer, American Lutheran Church missionary to India, delivers the first of two sermons at St. Paul's Church.

Dr. Oberdorfer, on furlough from India, will also appear at the 9 a.m. Bible Discussion Groups, the 10:45 a.m. service and the monthly Chi Rho meeting in the Little Theater at 1:30 p.m.

Continuing the program on Monday, Dr. Oberdorfer will speak at evening chapel services and at a Mission Fellowship meeting at 7:15 in Wartburg Hall Lounge.

Convo, Coffee, Chapel. Tuesday's program includes convocation at 10 a.m., a coffee hour for the faculty and staff in the Faculty Lounge in Luther Hall at 4 p.m. and chapel services at 6:15 and 6:45 with Dr. Oberdorfer appearing at each.

Chapel services during the remainder of the week will carry out the missions theme. On Wednesday, Lucille Antholz, president of Mission Fellowship, will lead a "Worship in Song" service.

At Thursday's chapel service the Rev. Waldemar Gies, faculty adviser to Mission Fellowship, will be the speaker and on Friday, Herbert Hafermann, vice-president of Mission Fellowship, will conduct chapel services.

Dr. Oberdorfer is the senior missionary of the India Mission staff of the ALC.

Cap Graduate. Graduated from Capital University Seminary in 1920, Dr. Oberdorfer has spent 36 years working among the people of the Andhra State, India, where the ALC is carrying on mission work.

In addition to his evangelistic duties, Dr. Oberdorfer has held several important offices in the India missions. He has served as president of the South Andhra Lutheran Church, which numbers approximately IS,000 baptized members.

Dr. Oberdorfer has also served as president of the College Council for the Gurukul Lutheran Theological College and Research Institute which has recently been established at Madras for the advanced training of national pastors for leadership in their church. He also has been president of the Federation of Evangelical Lutheran Churches in India for nine years.

Library..How Big?

Wartburg's ever-expanding Student Body has necessitated a vast expansion in the campus physical plant. Buildings are constructed as rapidly as funds become available. Many of those buildings become inadequate before they are completed.

At its October convention in Blue Island, Ill., the American Lutheran Church gave Wartburg $850,000 — at least that's the theory. Actually, of this sum $200,000 must be amortized for the new men's dorm, $150,000 will be raised by development and $200,000 of this is "if and when money." The college will get it "if and when" the church raises it.

Originally, college officials wanted to use the total $850,000 for construction of two buildings — a men's dorm and a library. However, the church decided that these funds must cover the cost of these two buildings, plus a chapel-auditorium.

Plans are now complete for the new men's dorm — the first unit of it. A committee is now busily working on plans for the proposed library. Their problem? To make $250,000 build an adequate library — not just for now, but for the future.

And how are they coming?

They aren't.

According to one member of the committee, it is an impossibility to do this with the amount of money on hand.

What's the solution?

There are two things which can be done: (1.) Build the first unit of a library now and ten years from now, go through the entire process again by tacking an addition onto it. (2) Forget the chapel-auditorium for the present and concentrate on the library.

The second course appears to be the wiser. While there is no question that a chapel would be nice and beneficial for the Wartburg campus, none the less, the fact remains that it is not an absolute necessity as is the library.

It is better to have one adequate building than to have two inadequate ones. —HK

FOOTNOTES TO FAITH

What Do You Seek? Answer Found In John

By Milton Ost

Several interesting things occur in the book of St. John. Let us briefly dwell upon one of these things — the first utterances of Jesus in this Gospel.

The first statement Jesus makes is, "What do you seek?" (1:38), and the second is "Come and see" (1:39). Perhaps these words were not specifically selected to be first for any definite purpose, but in a sense, are they not vital words to live by for every man today?

Ost

In this day and age, when the nation's best-selling books include such titles as "Peace of Mind," "The Power of Positive Thinking," etc., it is important for us, first and foremost, to stop and ask ourselves, What am I seeking? What do we want in life — power, fame, wealth, success, self happiness, a trouble-free existance?

Or do we want to be humble servants, desiring to help others, to make our blessings be their blessings, to be living examples of a living Christ within us, to bear any cross placed upon us? What are you looking for in life? "What are you seeking?"

Then, secondly, Jesus says, "Come and see." If one truly wishes to know intimate details about some organization, he must join its ranks. The story is told of an old woman who heard a great deal about a stained-glass window in a church and, looking at the window from the sidewalk, was disappointed.

Then someone told her to view it from the inside. She entered the church and was overawed at the beauty of the window when the outside light illuminated it to one standing inside the church. She saw its beauty from the inside. So it is with Christianity.

It will not illuminate our lives, nor will it give us comfort and assurance unless we are truly inside of it, unless we "come and see." Are you coming to Christ and seeing for yourself? By truly coming and truly seeing, YOU can inherit life eternal and that "peace which the world cannot give." Christ has invited you with two simple sentences. How will you reply?

WHAT IN THE WORLD

Main Arabian Knight Wants Armor

By Don Oberdorfer

Time and again as the world has passed through crisis after crisis in the political scheme of things, man has been forced to turn from the "show of arms" attitude to the more peaceful and acceptable diplomatic tour to other countries.

Oberdorfer

Not long ago, India's Nehru visited this country amidst the ticker-tape showers and tooting of military bands which are brought out for all such occasions.

Recently, however, Saudi Arabia's King Saud visited us amidst the overwhelming quiet imposed by Mayor Robert Wagner of New York. Unable to accept the ruler of a "slave trading" country which seemed to be opposed to both Catholics and Jews, he discouraged any attempt at showing courtesy to the visiting official—a lamentable action, as Saud seems to be more friendly to the United States than the majority of the countries which we have treated with such respect and generosity before.

Saud, ruling one of the most fabulously rich countries in the Mid-East oil belt, comes to this country in the hopes of retaining and renewing the friendship which exists between our two countries at the present time.

Of course, as are all the countries in the Arab bloc, Saud is definitely opposed to Israeli action in the Middle East. This tends to strain relations as the United States is pledged to support the Jewish nation.

Having situated strategic and vitally important bases around the world from where death-blows may be dealt to aggressive countries in case of war, we find it vitally important to maintain these bases by continuing feelings of good will, which may or may not have existed thus far.

Thus, in spite of all our hopes for a calm and eventful visit by this monarch, we have let our petty feelings enter in and replace good will by snarling apprehension. We must treat this visitor with all due respect if our goal is to be accomplished.

The question naturally follows, what exactly do we wish to gain from this visiting Arab? Our country, anxious as it seems to be about keeping peace throughout the world, has not let the illusion of perpetual peace dull its senses.

In Saudi Arabia, we have an extensive air network which remains vital to our potential "war effort." It is hoped that we will be able to renew this contract in order to keep this air base.

Also, the President hopes to be able to learn first-hand of the difficulties which are prominent in the Middle East. In turn, Saud wants about $250 million worth of U.S. armament. This, figures the United States, may be given if non-agression against Israel is assured by Saud.

If we are not careful in our dealings, if we do not go out of our way to show our friendship to others, then we may find ourselves in a position in which the term "friends" will carry no meaning at all and we will be alone in our dealings with the rest of the world.

If we can keep our heads while all about us are losing theirs, then ours is the world and all the people in it friends.

IM's OK'd By Student Senators

Intercollegiate intramurals between Luther and Wartburg were approved at a joint meeting between student government officials at Decorah Thursday. Tentative plans call for two meetings, one at Luther and one at Wartburg.

Other business also discussed at the meeting was the axe, traveling trophy between the two schools. According to Ed Schneider, intercollegiate relations chairman, full agreement was reached on the symbol.

At Monday's Senate session, student legislators recommended conducting a campus community chest again this year. Final approval must come from the student body.

Also discussed was college representation on the Waverly Chamber of Commerce, the college Specialty Series and courtesy week. It was reported that work is being continued on a popular concert.

In other action, the Senate proclaimed April 21-27 as Publications Week in honor of the 50th anniversary of Wartburg Publications. Newly elected frosh senator, Roger Schneider, was also introduced.

Wartburg student makes good. George Herbener, knowing how desperate I usually am for column material, took the trouble to inform me that one former Wartburg coed really put her education to advantage after she graduated. She is a boreback rider for Cole Brothers Circus.

In the last two Wartburg Players plays Lois Pichelmeyer has been cast as a boy. If it's any consolation, Lois, you convinced those first, second and third grade students who attended "Jack and the Beanstalk" that you were a boy, but the sixth graders snickered when you were first referred to as "son."

Note to Jerry Haver, wherever you are: Don't feel bad about the water fountain in Wartburg Hall — the Knight is still knock-kneed.

One student has discovered a way to combine the Ivy League look with the Iowa Conference look. He wears his tapered Oxford grey trousers with the belt in the back — unbuckled.

Semester examinations aren't so much a part of the remote past that you can't shake your head in sad agreement to this definition of cramming — "Intellectual overeating after a long period of starvation.

The Statesman, student newspaper of the University of Minnesota, Duluth branch, tells of the young man who just received his college degree and rushed out and said: "Here I am, world; I have an AB!" To which the world replied: "Sit down, son, and I'll teach you the rest of the alphabet."

And would you call the following item taking Student Body spirit to the extreme? At the University of Mexico the students confiscated several buses from a local transit company and kept them until the company agreed to pay damages to a fellow student who had been struck by one of the buses.

The speaker for Texas University's Religious Emphasis Week ended his speech like this: "You've got to get out on the campus and give 'em . . . . Heaven."

Hiltner is the son of Dr. and Mrs. John Hiltner, Waverly.

Hiltner was to receive a year of study at the Hebrew University in Jerusalem under a scholarship from the Israeli government, where he was to gather material for his doctor's dissertation on the geography of the Middle East.

While in Istanbul, Turkey, Hiltner was ready to fly into Tel Aviv when war broke out and left him stranded in Turkey, since no Americans were permitted to enter the war zone.

SPOTLIGHT ON VARSITY, BUT . . .

Stark Eyes 'B's'

By Stark Wreelism

Ol' Stark climbed the ladder hand over hand to the cubicle under the scoreboard called the press box, admiring his athletic agility until his head banged against the trap door. Two helpful hands lifted the door until he was up another step and then drew back out of the way, dropping the door on the noggin again.

WARTBURG SPORTS TRUMPET

"Who won the first game?" nosy Ol' Stark asked, putting his hand to his head, which was rising to the occasion.

"Wartburg. Who else? They were down six points at half-time and pulled out 61-48."

"Wow."

"Looks like Bob has got a good ball club this year."

"Sure does. They've won six in a row now. Some of these boys should help next year. Too bad more of the students don't come down and watch these ball games once in a while. This big center, Remmers, really seems to be improving. How many did he get tonight?"

"Seventeen. Those guards, Schwarz and Mehlhaus, can really move the ball around. That ball club is beginning to look smooth. Schade and Jansen are really hittin' too. They're forwards, aren't they?"

"Yes. Say, how did the wrestlin' team come out?"

"I don't know. Shoulda won, though."

"Yeah. Jo's got a good team this year. Brandt, Chellevold, Brye, Wilharm, Wayers, Friedricks, Frerichs, Oltrogge, all of 'em. Pretty good. Ever see Chellevold's dad out there watching the meet?"

"Yeh. Bet he goes through every twist and turn Dick does during a match."

"I'd sure hate to sit next to him when Dick got on top of someone."

"That's quite a streak Brandt has going. Twenty-four. Brye is doing all right at heavyweight for Jo."

"Yeah. Jo and Bob should be pretty happy now. Too bad kids don't come down and watch these games too. Those boys like a little support once in a while too. Once in a while Ax and the varsity gets the same treatment. Here we were battling Parsons and Wesleyan for position in the conference a couple of weeks ago. Know who was down for Wartburg?"

"Who?"

"Bundgaard."

Wartburg Faces Wesleyan In Knights Gym At 7:30

By Staff Writer

Wartburg, with every Iowa Conference game looming as a must in the tight loop race, hosts second-place Iowa Wesleyan on the Knights Gym hardwoods tonight at 7:30.

Knights will be out to avenge the 78-63 loss handed them by Wesleyan earlier this season. Going against such men as Don Gibbs, Bob Gunter and Bob Ballard, this figures to be a topnotch feat for Wartburg.

Oles Up. Traveling to Northfield, Minn., Tuesday, Knight cagers will take on St. Olaf, their final non-conference foe.

St. Olaf, a member of the Midwest Conference, stands below Cornell and Grinnell, two Midwest teams which have previously this year been beaten by Wartburg.

Previous meetings of Wartburg and St. Olaf find the Knights on the long end of the scores. St. Olaf won in '44, while Wartburg trounced St. Olaf in '51, '52 and '53, to leave the series at 3-1.

Wartburg, on the first leg of a two-game road trip, invades Pella to tussle with fifth-place Central Friday night. On Saturday the Knights move on to Indianola to face Simpson.

Dutch Clutch. Featuring a ball-control style of offense, the Flying Dutchmen almost pulled a victory from the Knights a month ago, but lost in the final seconds 51-49.

Using defensive tactics, which include almost every known method, Central has compiled a 61.7 defensive average to lead the league in this department. Couple this with their leading scorers, Virgil Dykstra and Ken Loats, and the Dutchmen figure to be formidable foes.

UP IN THE AIR over Wartburg's winning way of play, these Knight fans express various degrees of excitement as Wartburg scores again.

Intramural Basketball Enters Finale

By Wilbur Flachman

Intramural basketball teams will be gunning for the finish as the final round of play approaches next week.

In the National League, the team to beat is Grossmann III. The Cavaliers are on top with a 6-0 record. The American loop race appears to be wide open. Grossmann I and II continue to hold down the top spot with 6-1 record, but three other teams have only two defeats. Two contests remain for each team.

Scoring Spree. Monday night's National League action showed Grossmann I trouncing Stufflebeam 37-14 as Dick Schuenke looped in 13 points. Grossmann III routed North Hall III 67-31 as five players hit in the double figures. Grossmann II squeezed by Jacoby 27-26, while North Hall II trimmed the Friends 34-31, with Bill Streng notching 20 counters.

Schuenke

Nass

American League activity found Grossmann I defeating the Vets 47-28, with George Hanson meshing 12 tallies. North Hall clipped the Trailer Courts 34-21 and Alpha House eased past the Waverly quintet 26-21. Ken Hartman found the range for 18 points to lead Grossmann II past Vollmer 56-41. Three of his mates chipped in with 12 apiece.

Bowling Shift. Wednesday night saw one change in the bowling standings, as league-leading Waverly Bowl five whipped Meyer Drug 3-1. Ritchie Pontiac jumped into the second slot with a 4-0 win over Liebau's Barber shop.

The tail-enders, Crest-O-Diner and Hilltop Cafe, split at 2-2. Mel Nass fired the high game with a 195, and also the top series, carding a 525.

Knights Grab 11-6 Slate

'B' Squad Faces AAU 5 Tonight

Bob Campbell's Wartburg freshman cage squad will be after their seventh consecutive victory tonight, when they test the West Side Billiards from Waterloo. The two squads take to the hardcourts at 5:45, preliminary to the varsity game.

The West Waterloo team is an AAU team composed of former Waterloo High School stars and is expected to put a powerful team on the floor tonight.

The junior Knights claimed their sixth victory in a row by coming from behind in the last half to down Luther 81-48 last week. The frosh displayed a brilliant scoring exhibition in the final 12 minutes to overcome a four-point Luther edge. Leon Schade meshed 17 points to lead Wartburg past the future Norsemen.

By Staff Writer

Wartburg Knights brought their season record to 11-6 by dumping Buena Vista 92-77 Tuesday night. The victory left the Knights resting in fourth spot in the Iowa conference. For Buena Vista it was the seventh loss in eight conference contests.

Jaspers

In the game played at Storm Lake, Wartburg jumped into a 41-32 halftime lead behind the torrid firing of John Adix and Art Margheim. Adix contributed 13 points during the first stanza drive and Margheim sank 12. Chapman helped keep Buena Vista in the game the initial half with 12 counters.

Canning 44 per cent of their field goal attempts, the Knights outscored Buena Vista in the final period 51-45. Fred Jaspers led the Knight attack with seven buckets for a total of 14 second-half points. Jerry Ibach, Buena Vista's leading scorer, chipped in a like number to pace the losers' final effort.

Margheim and Jaspers shared scoring honors for Wartburg with 20 tallies each. Adix was right on their heels with 19. Ibach totaled 17 for the losing Buena Vista quintet.

Arthur Fiedler, Pops On Stage Here Friday Night

Tour Orchestra Making Fourth Stop In Five Years At Knights Gymnasium

By Marsha Arhart

There's an old adage which says, "Do something three times and it becomes a habit." Perhaps that is the case or tradition as the Boston Pops Tour Orchestra returns for its fourth appearance on the Wartburg Artist Series next Friday evening at 8 in Knights Gymnasium.

Director Fiedler

Whether tradition or habit, Artist Series patrons will once again be in store for a fine evening of musical entertainment presented by the Boston Pops. Under the direction of the inimitable Arthur Fiedler, the Pops is familiar wherever light music is loved and appreciated.

Fiedler, a silver-haired and incredibly energetic man, is famous for a varied repertoire of musical selections. Record collectors have been familiar with Fiedler and the Boston Pops Orchestra for over 25 years, and their recordings have led to the organization of the Boston Pops Tour Orchestra.

Amateur Smoke-Eater. During his last visit, in 1955, Fiedler, an ardent fire-chaser (his car is equipped with a short-wave radio and siren to make sure he doesn't miss any blazes), was made an honorary fire chief of the Waverly Fire Department.

Educated at the Boston Latin School and the Royal Academy in Berlin, Fiedler began his musical career as a violinist in the famous string section of the Boston Symphony. In 1929 he founded Boston's famous outdoor Esplanade Concerts — a free summer series performed in a natural setting on the banks of the Charles River. The following year he began conducting the Boston Symphony Pops Concerts, an institution in the Hub City since 1885.

The orchestra will include these songs on their evening program: "Water Music" by Handel, "Nutcracker Suite" by Tchaikovsky, selections from "My Fair Lady" and "Love Is a Many Splendored Thing." They will close with the ever popular "Look Sharp Be Sharp."

Touring with the Pops Orchestra will be pianist Ruth Slencyznska. A child prodigy of the 1930's and more recently featured on a "This Is Your Life" television program, Miss Slencyznska has taken her place in the foreground of today's major keyboard artists.

One Side, Igor. When only five years old, Miss Slencyznska was termed "the greatest genius since Mozart." At nine, she filled an entire cancelled tour of the immortal Paderewski and was the toast of the musical world. On European tours in 1953, '54 and '55, she won an enthusiastic public abroad and important prestige engagements for the BBC and France's Radiodiffusion.

The detailed story, as Ruth Slencyznska herself tells it, is being readied as a book while motion pictures and magazine serialization rights are already being negotiated. For her selection with the Boston Pops she will present "Piano Concerto No. 1 in G Minor" by Mendelssohn.

New Figures For Drive

Close to $100,000 has been pledged in the "Waverly for Wartburg" campaign, according to the Rev. Martin Ackermann, development director. The campaign is still expected to exceed $100,000, according to the development office.

A number of firms and individuals have indicated a desire to participate, but have yet to make pledges. Efforts are now being made to contact these by mail.

In a breakdown of the figures into three separate phases, Waverly is shown to have contributed $77,367.50; faculty and administration, $18,425.79; and the student body, $2,000. The total also includes gifts received in 1956 prior to the actual campaign.

For the Student Body Project drive, Eugene Van Driel, senior, has been named chairman for a March 15 carnival. An annual event, the festival will be used to raise money for the Student Body Project fund.

Pledges now stand at the $2,000 mark with $1,375 in cash having been paid. One month remains before final payments are to be made.

Application Time For Scholarships During February

Students planning to apply for scholarships this coming year should do so sometime during February. Blanks may be obtained in the Dean of Women's office.

Applications definitely must be made before March 1 because after this the committee commences to go over the material, according to W. G. Fruehling, chairman. No persons will be eligible without filling in a blank.

Between twenty and thirty class scholarships are awarded in addition to a number of special awards. Class scholarships are awarded on the grade point system, but qualifications vary on the others. Some are made only in certain areas.

It is not necessary to apply for the American Lutheran Parish Scholarship because it is automatically given to members of this denomination. A scholarship is considered major when it amounts to or exceeds the $100 mark.

Engaged Recently

Margaret Behrens, senior from Cedar Falls, has announced her recent engagement to Airman First Class James Robert Kilman from Bald Knob, Ark.

Choir To Give LWF Concerts

Wartburg choir, under the direction of Dr. Edwin Liemohn, has been invited to give two concerts on Tuesday, Aug. 20, at the third Lutheran World Federation Assembly in Minneapolis.

Each Lutheran synod in America belonging to the National Lutheran Council is asked to be represented by one choir.

Varied Program. The Wartburg Choir, in keeping with the spirit of the assembly, will sing selections in Swedish, German and Norwegian. Several numbers by contemporary American composers will be included in the program as well.

The first world-wide meeting of this kind was held in Lund, Sweden, in 1947. The second meeting was in Hanover, Germany, in 1952. This year's meeting in Minneapolis is scheduled for Aug. 15 to Aug. 25.

One in a Lifetime. The Rev. M. A. Egge of St. Paul, chairman of the Federation's Music Committee, said, "This is likely the only Lutheran World Federation Assembly to be held in our country during our generation."

Among the choirs to be heard at the Assembly is the famous boys' choir from St. Thomas school in Leipzig, Germany, where Johann Sebastian Bach spent the most productive period of his life as a teacher and cantor.

Director Liemohn

Musicians Meet

Several members of the Wartburg Music Department will attend the Convention of the Music Teachers National Association in Chicago tomorrow through Wednesday.

Faculty members who plan to go are Miss Jean Abramson, Miss Mai Hogan, Dr. Edwin Liemohn, Dr. E. A. Hovdesven, Warren Schmidt and Ernest Hagen.

Helen Mueller, one of 10 Wartburg students belonging to the association, will also attend the convention.

Wartburg Coeds At DM Confab

Senior Gloria Wiebe and junior Kay Fritschel represented Wartburg College last weekend at the convention of Student Iowa State Education Association in Des Moines.

Genevieve Goeman, junior, also attended the meeting as a nominee for vice-president of the organization.

Miss Goeman was selected from the nominees to present her piano solo at the banquet of the Delegate Council of the ISEA. Present at the banquet was Iowa Governor Herschel Loveless.

DEAN COUNCIL HEAD

Dr. John Chellevold, dean of faculty, was recently elected chairman of the Church Council at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Waverly.

Art Exhibit Features New York Pics

Washington Square Art Exhibition will be showing at the Fine Arts Center tomorrow afternoon from 2 until 5. Sixteen prize-winning pictures from the semiannual outdoor exhibition held in Washington Square, New York City, are on display.

Miss Helen Wright, head of the Wartburg Art Department, states that the exhibition was attended by over one hundred thousand people in New York.

"This is proof that the show is an important contribution to culture," added Miss Wright.

The exhibition will last through Feb. 17.
